

AUTO HITS
A CARRIAGEYoung Thrown to the Ground
at Newburyport and Badly Injured.

Newburyport, Jan. 5.—A carriage driven by John P. Young of 5-Orange street was struck by an automobile at the corner of Inter and Washington streets this afternoon and Mr. Young was thrown out and so severely injured that he was taken to the Anna Jacques Hospital. A fracture of the base of the brain is feared, although it will be tomorrow before the full extent of his injuries can be determined.

The automobile was owned and operated by Herbert J. Sawyer of Haverhill. He was coming down Winter street and Young was driving up Washington street. The collision, besides throwing Young out, on his head, smashed the carriage considerably and freed the horse, which, running a half-mile or more before being captured.

Sawyer picked Young up in an unconscious condition and took him to his home on Orange street when, after an examination by the doctors, he was taken to the hospital.

Sawyer then went to the police station and reported the accident. He told the city marshal, John L. McLean, that he was coming down Winter street at a very slow rate, and when near the corner, sounded his horn. Just as he reached the corner he saw the carriage and brought his car to a stop, as did the driver of the carriage. He then started to go ahead, but thinks that the horse must have jumped away from the control of the driver, as it started at just about the same time, with the result that the automobile struck the outfit on one of the front wheels. A boy named Sargent, who was riding in the carriage at the time it was struck, was not in the least injured. Sawyer was accompanied by his wife and two friends. Young is employed as custodian of the North End Boat Club house and also drives considerably for local livery stables.

HAS A BETTER
OUTLOOK NOWTurkey May be Given Until Friday
to Make Final Decision

London, Jan. 5.—The general situation has ameliorated and the danger of a rupture of the peace negotiations tomorrow seems to be averted through Turkey making fresh concessions which will enable the allies to enjoy a holiday during the festivities in connection with the Orthodox Christmas.

Rehad Pasha seems to have turned into a sphinx, so full of mystery and impenetrability is he, but, from authoritative sources it is stated that the powers, through their ambassadors here and at Constantinople, have succeeded in mixing much water with both the allies and Turkey's wine. Strong pressure in favor of moderation has been exercised at Constantinople, while the Balkan representatives have been urged to be patient before breaking off the negotiations, especially as they can lose nothing by waiting, their position being better than that of Turkey.

The efforts of the powers appear to be successful on both sides. Thus, unless some sudden change occurs at the last moment, Rehad Pasha will present on Monday new terms which will comprise another redefinition of the Thracian frontier, bringing it further east than provided for in the terms presented Friday, perhaps to Dedagatch, but not yet including Adrianople, and possibly the cession of Turkey's rights in Crete directly to the allies.

Allied representations had been made to them, Dr. Danoff, Premier Venizelos, M. Novakovich and M. Myuskovitch met today and decided to give Turkey a further period, of grace, considering the new terms as proof of a disposition on the part of Turkey to reach a satisfactory solution.

They proposed to submit the new terms to their governments for study and await further instruction and will suggest an adjournment of the conference probably until Friday, the third day after their Christmas, at the same time emphasizing the absolute necessity of Turkey meeting the terms of the allies, particularly with respect to Adrianople.

In the meantime, many things may happen. Of first importance among these, the fall of Adrianople would compel Turkey to accept the inevitable. The powers continue to exercise pressure at Constantinople, aiming to demonstrate to the Porte that persistence would only lead to graver losses.

The impression is that Turkey will end by ceding Adrianople and that this will be done without any serious results, such as are always predicted by Turkish sympathizers or threatened by Constantinople, whenever Turkey is engaged in a conflict with a Christian state. Whenever Turkey is about to suffer territorial amputation, the specter of Mussulman fanaticism is raised and assistance is sought from Great Britain and France, which have in their dominions millions of Mussulmans who are pictured as being ready to rise in sympathy.

SUIT AGAINST CITY.

William H. Tucker Wants
$5000 as Result of Injuries.

William H. Tucker, through his attorney, Ralph C. Gray, has brought suit against the city for the sum of $5000. The suit was instituted as the result of an accident on State street August 31, 1912. Tucker claims the covering of a culvert was defective which he fell through, causing injuries to his right leg and back. The papers were served on City Clerk Drew today and the case will come up at the April term of superior court if no settlement is agreed upon before that time by the city council.

NEW PLANS.

For Bridge Across River and Rearrangement of Tracks.

Though not much can be learned as to the outcome of the work by the engineers in the Boston and Maine yard in this city, it is apparent that some changes are likely to follow as a result of the survey. It is understood that the engineers office is preparing plans showing conditions of the Portsmouth yard with reference to a new bridge across the Piscataqua and the rearrangement of tracks at this station.

Engineer Jewell is in charge of the crew. It will take a month to complete the survey.

FOR FOURTH TIME.

Durham, N. H., Passenger Station Is Broken Into.

Dover, Jan. 5.—County Solicitor Hughes was notified by Boston & Maine officials today that the passenger station at Durham was broken into last night and that all the tickets and mileage books in the ticket office were stolen. It is said that the ticket cabinet was taken away with its contents, as was also the ticket stamp. This is the fourth time the new station at Durham has been broken into since it was opened a little more than a year ago. The county authorities have begun an investigation.

SHOOT'S HIMSELF.

Was Engaged in Stopping Dog
Fight at Time of Accident.

Bangor, Me., Jan. 5.—In trying to stop a fight between his dogs while hunting rabbits, Alonzo Plinkum, aged 18, fatally shot himself at East Newport today. He was clubbing the dogs with his gun when it was discharged, the contents entering his abdomen. He was brought to a hospital in this city and died tonight.

HARD TASK TO PICK CABINETPresident Elect Wilson Will Urge Legislation Besides Tariff in Special Message

Princeton, N. J., Jan. 5.—President-Elect Wilson tonight made it clear that nobody in the United States knew, as yet, who was going to be in his Cabinet, or what would be the program he would suggest for the next Congress.

He declared that he would not offer a single Cabinet pick to any one until he had had a chance to reach no conclusions as to plans for the extra session.

Mr. Wilson stated that while he had canvassed a variety of subjects and had talked over many names with Democratic leaders who have been to see him, he had not given a definite intimation in any direction, either as to what his selections or his course with respect to legislation would be.

He indicated, however, that he expected the extra session would not be devoted exclusively to tariff making and said he would, in a special message, specify some of the subjects upon which he would like to see legislation enacted.

The President-elect admitted that he was finding the task of Cabinet making a very difficult one. He said he would delay any announcements until he could name his entire Cabinet.

"I don't like to make scattered announcements," he said, "and it may be that I will not announce the Cabinet until the last minute. Sometimes I hear something about a man whom I had not considered that makes me pick up my ears and want to know more about him. The field of choice is constantly widening."

It was suggested to Mr. Wilson that he delayed his announcements till the last minute some of the men whom he might choose might find themselves embarrassed at time in winding up their business affairs.

"O, I probably shall choose men who are foot-loose," said the Governor, "and then even if they should need time to wind up their affairs they could be sworn in on March 4 and spend a little time on it after that."

The President-elect indicated that he intended to occupy as much of his time as possible between now and March 4 in canvassing the field from which he will pick a Cabinet. He said his mind was still open and that as soon as he reached decisions as to all the men he wished, he probably would make all the offers simultaneously.

The President-elect was asked if he intended to deliver his inaugural address extemporaneously.

"I think I'll prepare the inaugural address," he said, "as those ad-

CAPTURED
THREE MENArrests Made of Men Supposed to Be Auto Bandits.

Chicago, Jan. 5.—Detectives searching for the automobile bandits who have of late been very active, today captured three men from Detroit, whom they accuse of being members of the gang. A fourth man, also from Detroit, overpowered the detective who had him in custody and escaped.

The men under arrest are Albert Charest, also known as Dubois; James Mitchell, a chauffeur, and Charles McNeff. The man who escaped is Hubert Catlett. Charest and Catlett were stopped on the street by detectives. Revolvers, blackjacks, skeleton keys, knives, two screwdrivers and 200 cartridges were found on the two.

The detectives forced Charest and Catlett to take them to their flat, where Mitchell and McNeff were taken into custody.

While four policemen were searching the premises Catlett struck Detective Morgan on the head and broke away from him. Morgan recovered quickly and began shooting at Catlett who dropped his overcoat as he ran. He is believed to have been struck by at least one shot, as bullet holes were found in the overcoat.

SHOWED ADVANTAGES OF PORTSMOUTH HARBOR

Captain Jacques Did Fine Work at Atlantic Deeper Waterways Convention.

Capt. W. H. Jacques, in his report to the governor, as a delegate to the annual convention of Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association, has a lot in his report regarding the port of Portsmouth and has received from Governor Bass a letter of acknowledgment commending the earnest attention he has given the matter. His report to the governor is as follows:

I have the honor to report my attendance at the fifth annual convention of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association under my appointment by you as delegate of the State of New Hampshire and to send you under separate cover some of the literature that was presented by the various states and corporations.

In the interest of the state and our one port—Portsmouth—I gave for the records of the association the booklet which had been prepared by the board of trade and merchants of that city, a copy of which I sent you, and addressed the association as follows:

"While New Hampshire is not yet directly connected with the international waterways system which is receiving our special attention at this convention, she has in her excellent harbor of Portsmouth and its relative position to ocean communication with British, continental and Canadian ports most valuable assets which must be taken into consideration and which give her a place that entitles her to a just share of the development of the internal waterways of the Atlantic coast.

"Further this water communication can be easily and economically secured by the improvement of the Merrimack river, of the waters behind Plum Island and of Andover harbor and river into Gloucester harbor and thence to the Cape Cod canal; thus putting the great manufacturing town of New Hampshire and Manchester in close and direct water communication with, and forming part of, the intracoastal waterway system.

"With New Hampshire's products of $200,000,000 to be transported the intracoastal waterways can certainly look upon this state as an important factor in traffic.

"Portsmouth harbor is the deepest on the Atlantic coast and one of the safest and best. It can accommodate the largest ships and makes possible commerce with all the world.

"It has the distinct advantage of being the one port on the Atlantic coast which is open at all times of the year.

for no matter how severe the winter the harbor never freezes.

"The dangers of the eddies and tidal currents that once existed have been materially reduced by the removal of some mud shoals and the projecting part of Henderson's point and could be rendered a negligible quantity by placing a dike at a suitable spot in either Great Bay or the Piscataqua river. This addition would not only improve the harbor but facilitate the crossing of the river by the railroads, supply a considerable water power for the city and neighborhood and make of Great Bay a beautiful inland waterway as attractive as the Fox and Deer Island thoroughfares of Maine or the Inland Sea of Japan.

"With a splendid naval station only a short distance from the ocean well protected by modern fortifications and with a never failing seventy-five foot depth of water from the ocean to the drydock; a dock equal in capacity to any other on the Atlantic coast and more easily reached; with coal facilities for handling an unlimited tonnage; a location for a railroad terminal that would provide the shortest route to the greatest of European ports and a harbor capable of accommodating an enormous tonnage of shipping and never shut in by ice, New Hampshire can well boast of her many advantages and assert her right to national care."

"This can be more quickly secured by concerted action with the Atlantic Deep Waterways Association than by any other course, and I have the honor to suggest that you write letters to the boards of trade and chambers of commerce of our State urging them to become members of the association; I enclose application cards for that purpose.

You will note that New Hampshire ranks and only one of these was to be represented by only three present.

"The association, under the able presidency of J. Hampton Moore of Philadelphia, has in its short existence of five years not only secured the cooperation of the army engineers but the assistance of congress in direct appropriations for the purchase of the Chesapeake and Albemarle canal and the improvement of other important links of the inland system.

"The State of New Jersey has obligated herself to pay for the land and survey for the trunk canal from her downtown to Burlington bay to short of which I send you under separate cover

NO INDIGESTION, GAS, OR A SOUR STOMACH.

"Pape's Diapepsin" Makes Your Stomach Feel Fine in Five Minutes.

Wonder what ails your stomach— which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. Your stomach is in a revolt; it can't digest and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps, your head dizzy and aches; belch gas and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Diapepsin and in five minutes you truly will wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today, know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite food without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal diet without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest and most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Plans for your sake, don't go on with a weak disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

ARE NEVER DELIVERED.
Thousands of Post Cards Are Destroyed at Dead Letter Office.
One should use care in sending the three post cards, 175,000 of which were destroyed at the dead letter office last year. The majority of them carried Christmas greetings, and were held as undeliverable because either the postage was not prepaid, or the cards bore unusual or alien ornaments, and were mailed in unsent envelopes. The transmission of cards with mela or lined decoration is forbidden by the postal regulations because the eyes of employees have been injured by handling them.

ARRESTS MADE IN YORK HARBOR ROBBERIES

Thought to Clear Up Mystery of Breaks in Fashionable Summer Homes.

The mystery connected with the robbery of the fashionable summer cottages at York Harbor, has been cleared up it is thought by the arrest on Sunday of Arthur Palmer, aged 21 and Charles Dobby, aged 33, both of York.

These two men were arrested on the charge of breaking and entering the summer home of Mrs. Samuel S. Allen on the South shore, some time during the month of December, and the larceny of goods valued at $300.

Palmer the police of York claim, has confessed implicating Dobby and the greater part of the stolen property was recovered. The arrests were made on Sunday morning by Constables H. L. Grant and George M. Preble who has been making an investigation for some weeks. Palmer was taken first and after some question-

TOOK SUPPLIES TO IRELAND
Frigate Jamestown, Burned Friday at Norfolk, One of Navy's Most Historic Craft.

Washington, Jan. 5.—The old frigate Jamestown, mysteriously burned yesterday when she broke away from her moorings near the Norfolk navy yard, was one of the historic craft of the old navy. She was built by the navy department at Norfolk in 1845, and two years later sprung into world-wide fame when she sailed from Boston with a load of supplies for sufferers from the Irish famine.

Deeds of philanthropy were less common in those days and the arrival of the Jamestown in Cork Harbor was widely heralded.

WOULD MAKE A GOOD OFFICER.

Among the applicants for the position of patrolman on the police department is Thomas Cardon, who would make an exceptional good officer. Mr. Cardon was born here and during the Spanish war enlisted in the regular army and saw service in Cuba and Manila. He was promoted for bravery in the Philippines to first sergeant, as high as he could go being the age limit to get a commission. He remained on the island during all of the troublesome time and then resigned, receiving an honorable discharge and a perfect conduct rating. Since his return to this city he has been employed on the navy yard. He is a big powerful fellow, with a good level head and his friends are confident that the police commission would not make a mistake to give him an appointment.

O'BRIEN MISSING, THOUGHT TO HAVE BEEN DROWNED

Patrick O'Brien, of this city, has been missing since Friday morning, and his relatives fear that he has been drowned. His disappearance was reported to the local police on Saturday night by Fred I. Yorke of Adkinson street, this city, a brother-in-law.

He told the police that O'Brien left on Friday morning for Bra' Boat Harbor on a hunting trip, and when he did not return his relatives became uneasy and started a search, and Saturday night after a hopeless search, reported to the police. His relatives think that he might have been caught by the tide and drowned, but this seems improbable, inasmuch as the tide would give plenty of warning and again, the cars on the Atlantic Shore Line cross the harbor every two hours. He might have been taken ill and overcome in this way.

HELD WITHOUT BAIL FOR ATTEMPTED MURDER

Isaac Satters, colored, who admits that he intended to commit triple murder, on Friday, when he shot at, but missed John Robinson, colored, was arraigned before Judge Stines in police court on Saturday charged with attempted murder. He entered a plea of guilty and he was committed to jail without bail, for the April term of court.

THE DYNAMITERS MAY GET BONDS

Indianapolis, Jan. 5.—In the matter of bonds for the 32 convicted in Leavenworth prison for the dynamite conspiracy, Dist. Atty. Charles W. Miller, who returned to Indianapolis from Chicago today, said that either Judge Albert B. Anderson or the circuit court of appeals would approve finally the supersedeas bonds. He also said it would not be necessary for the prisoners to be present in court when the bonds were approved.

"The bonds can be signed by the prisoners in the penitentiary and executed by proper surety, and if they are found to be in proper form and the security sufficient, the men will be released," said the district attorney. "It will be necessary however, for the bondsmen to qualify for double the amount of the bonds and they must have the property subject to execution."

This would require property worth $2,200,000 back of the pledge of the men to appear at future hearings in the case when their presence is demanded. Mr. Miller said there were a few of the convicts such as Ryan, Twelvetree and Clancy, who would be able to supply bond no matter what conditions may be demanded.

"And for that reason," he said, "I will place no obstacles in the way of men who may have great difficulty in giving bond."

Reports from different parts of the country tell of amounts being raised, and J. B. McClary, acting secretary of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, and Edward Lewis, the only executive board member out of prison, express the opinion that they will be able to secure the release of all with in 10 days or two weeks.

Although reports from Leavenworth have said that no attempt would be made to free Herbert S. Hockin, former secretary of the union, his wife here says that she has been assured by attorneys for the union, that he would receive the

The Transcript's New Editor.

Mr. James Williams, the new editor of the Boston Transcript, comes to that great journal thoroughly qualified to maintain the high standard of that influential newspaper. The Transcript is one of the ablest newspapers in the country and is of the type that means much to the home as it is clean and honest and confines itself to printing the news (all that is fit to print) free from sensationalism and with a strict regard to the truth. It is the type of newspaper that brightens the home, life and improves the mind rather than degrades it—the kind of newspaper that should be welcomed in every home. Mr. Williams has had a wide experience in the newspaper business and has a large acquaintance with public men and affairs, and The Herald predicts that he will not only maintain the high standard of the Transcript, but will make it even more popular and influential for good.

The Majority Rule.

New Hampshire gets a democratic governor and administration control for the first time in thirty years through the action of democrats and progressives in joining forces in the legislature. It is to be hoped that this will be followed by the abrogation of the ancient provision requiring a clear majority of all votes cast at the polls to establish a popular election.

In this case the result is the same as if the plurality rule had prevailed; Samuel D. Felker, the democratic candidate, led the polling at the November election, and under the system prevailing generally in other States he would have been chosen at that time. There have been other instances in which the result has not been so fortunate; and, indeed, in the balloting on Thursday the republican members of the legislature did their best to place in the governor's chair a candidate falling far below Governor Felker in support of the people at the polls.

The absolute majority rule in popular elections is a relic of the past, inapplicable today, and should be discarded.—Boston Post.

Fruitless Demonstration.

The suffragettes of this country are liable to adopt campaign methods which, if not as violent as those of their English sisters, will still be out of the ordinary and calculated to attract wide attention. The cause of woman suffrage is weakened by the sensational and violent measures resorted to by the Pankhursts and their followers. Woman suffrage in England has been knocked backward for as much as a dozen years by the recent outbreaks in England. The British cannot be coerced by such methods. In New York state the suffragettes after the style of Coxe's army, are to march to Albany. That will not do them the slightest good. They can advance their cause by educational methods and moral suasion, but not by copying the methods of their sisters across the sea, nor by walking themselves into a footsore and bedraggled condition.—Lowell Sun.

Charitable Women.

Such women as Mrs. Russell Sage and Miss Helen Gould do not begin and end their charities with writing a check. They give their time and strength as freely as their dollars. Miss Gould has kept a corps of secretaries busy answering the letters relative to her charitable work for years, and it is understood that her approaching marriage is not to change her relation to the good work she has done and planned to do. Mrs. James Speyer is another woman of wealth of the same self-sacrificing type. She has been obliged to divide her days into office hours, in order to get through with the tremendous bulk of self-imposed work. They prove their belief in the poet's words:

"Not what we give, but what we share,
For the gift without the giver is bare."

The Baggage Smashers.

The baggage smashers of the United States ought to subscribe for the London Times. In a recent issue The Times remarked with the solemnity befitting the occasion:

"The American press, and in some degree the public, treat the 'baggage smasher' as a joke, instead of being, as he is, an almost criminal survival of the barbarous days of America; one of the last points on which the United States fails of being a civilized country."

If the baggage smashers would read this and reform, we feel sure The Times would pay prompt tribute of praise on their reformation.—Boston Transcript.

President Taft and Party on Tug Entering Panama Canal and View of Gatun Lock.

Photos by American Press Association.

President Taft was treated to probably the most remarkable scenes of man made grandeur to be found in the world when he inspected the Panama canal a few days ago. The president's party traversed part of the distance on a tug, this distance being a section of the great waterway which is now complete and filled with water. The rest of the distance was made by train along the walls of the canal bed. Colonel George W. Goethals, the chief engineer in charge of the big engineering work, was with the president, acting as a guide. Much importance attached to the meeting of these men, as the president gave his attention to placing the Panama canal zone on a final footing of good government, devoid of politics. It had been his hope to name Colonel Goethals as civil governor of the zone, but the storm of acrimonious criticism by certain office seekers that followed this caused him to virtually abandon this plan. The upper picture shows Colonel Goethals and President Taft as central figures in the party on the canal tug. The lower picture is a view of Gatun lock, the biggest structural detail along the stream.

HAPPY AT LAST.

Captain Sylvester Has Voted for Many Presidents to No Avail.

Captain James Sylvester of New-castle is a plumed man over the election of President-elect Woodrow Wilson. Captain Sylvester will be 75 years old next July and has voted for many democratic candidates for president, but Governor Wilson is the first one to secure an election. During both of President Cleveland's campaigns Capt. Sylvester was at sea and was unable to vote. He was born in Brunswick, Me., but just prior to the election of Governor Plaford as governor of Maine, he moved from Kittery to Newcastle and by leaving the state was deprived of his vote.

BUILD UP NEW ENGLAND

The Industrial Bureau of the New England Lines invites the co-operation of merchants, manufacturers and business men for the upbuilding of New England.

In 18 months to November last, 68 manufacturing firms, representing an investment of $2,600,000, have been established in New England as the direct result of the work of the New England Lines "Industrial Bureau" in co-operation with chambers of commerce, boards of trade and business associations in New England.

These newly established industries are now employing more than 3600 people, which according to social science statistics must represent a population of 12,000.

Nearly half these industries were established in six months preceding Nov. 1st.

The New England Railroad Lines represent more than $700,000,000 invested in New England transportation. These lines can be prosperous only as New England is prosperous.

The capital invested in mercantile and manufacturing lines in New England has and ought to have a larger return than capital invested in transportation.

Therefore, whenever you hear of any one seeking location for an industry, don't hesitate to promptly notify the Industrial Bureau, South Station, Boston, that we may co-operate to bring the business into New England.

OBSEQUIES

Mrs. Clara A. Powers

The funeral of Mrs. Clara A. Powers was held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon from the home of Mr. Cornelius Philbrick of Rye, Rev. H. A. Barber officiating. The pall bearers were James Perkins, Arthur Philbrick, Frank Rand and George Brown. Interment was in the Central cemetery under the direction of H. W. Nickerson.

Herbert E. Seawards

The funeral of Herbert E. Seawards was held at 2 o'clock Sunday from his home in Kittery Point, Rev. Winifred Coffin reading the services. Interment was in the Christian church chapel under the direction of O. W. Ham.

Charles A. Woodsum.

The remains of Charles A. Woodsum, who died in Malden Jan. 3, were brought here this forenoon for interment in South cemetery. O. W. Ham was the undertaker in charge.

John J. Cullen.

The funeral service over the remains of the late John J. Cullen was held at 2 o'clock this forenoon at the Church of the Immaculate Conception. The edifice was filled with many sorrowing friends of the young man to render the last token of respect for him who they liked so well in life. Rev. Edward J. Walsh, P. R., conducted the service and the Gregorian chant was rendered by a quartet from the senior choir. At the conclusion of the service by Father Walsh, Miss Katherine O'Leary and P. R. Kane sang appropriate solos. The floral emblems literally covered the casket, giving silent testimony of the grief and sorrow sustained in the parting of the deceased. The interment was in Calvary cemetery by Funeral Director W. P. Miskell. The following were the pallbearers: Howard Roberts, Russell Badger, Arnold Leavitt, William Page, Martin J. McCabe, Emmet O'Leary. The following relatives and friends from out of town were present: Miss Margaret Cullen, Miss Katherine Cullen, Thomas Cullen, Charles Cullen of New York; Frank Wiley, Miss Nellie Keefe of Wellesey; Mr. and Mrs. William O'Hearn, Mr. and Mrs. Michael O'Hearn of Brookline, Mrs. Joseph Jarvis, Everett; Miss Nellie O'Hearn, Beverly; Mrs. John Mallowney, Brookline; Miss May Penbody and Miss Jennie Herron of Groveland, Mass.

Mrs. Elizabeth F. Clifford

The funeral service for the late Mrs. Elizabeth F. Clifford, wife of John Clifford, was held on Sunday afternoon at the Church of the Immaculate Conception. There was a large attendance of friends and acquaintances of the departed to pay the last tribute of respect which the living can render the dead. Rev. E. J. Walsh, P. R., was the officiating priest and the musical portion of the service was rendered by the senior choir. At the conclusion a tenor solo, "Sometime We'll Understand," was given by P. R. Kane. Beautiful floral pieces were in abundance giving mute expression of those who are left to mourn the sad loss.

The remains were taken to Quincy, Mass., on the 1:40 p. m. train for interment. The pallbearers were John O'Sell, John Leary, John Roman, Patrick J. Brown.

COAL PRICES.

Will Depend Much On the Weather Conditions.

Whether the price of coal will drop or advance during the next few weeks depends entirely upon the weather, according to the dealers in the extremely valuable commodity. One of the largest dealers said Friday that if the summer weather prevailed, it is probable that the brokers, who control the coal situation, will start to "unload," but if a severe cold snap strikes this section of the country the price may advance.

TO ORGANIZE A COUNTY Y.M.C.A.

Upwards of 100 Delegates Meet in This City for That Purpose

At 10 o'clock this morning, Colonel Lyford A. Merrow of Center Ossipee, chairman of the state committee of the Y. M. C. A., called to order in the North Congregational church chapel a meeting of the business and professional men of Rockingham county, who were assembled for the purpose of considering the organization of a county Young Men's Christian Association.

About one hundred of the leading men of the county were in attendance. After the meeting was called to order by Rev. Charles A. Parker of Hampton Falls, a short devotional meeting, reading the one hundred and forty-fifth psalm and offering a short prayer.

After the devotional period Mr. Fred B. Freeman, state county secretary for New Hampshire, delivered an illustrated lecture on the proposed and accomplished work in the State. His address was humorous as well as intensely practical while some of the slides that were exhibited brought forth strong expressions from the audience. The illustrations of the old and new type of rural life were particularly interesting.

After the illustrated lecture Robert J. Merrill of Charlestown, state insurance commissioner and chairman of the Sullivan County committee, spoke for fifteen minutes of the remarkable success of the work which has of late been carried on in that part of the state. He spoke with impressive enthusiasm of what the work has done in Sullivan county.

Dr. Z. Willis Kemp, principal of Sanborn academy of Kingston, then stated the need of county work from the school standpoint. He stated this need and then outlined the opportunity which lies in the rural community of the county.

The value of county work to the church was then briefly outlined by Rev. Frederick J. Libby of Phillips Exeter academy, after which Principal John J. Murrin of Pinkerton academy spoke of modern methods of keeping the boy in the Sunday schools.

The last address before the business meeting was called to order was delivered by Mr. Oscar E. Huse, who for the past four months has devoted his entire time to a minute study of the existing social and economic conditions of Rockingham county, by the aid of extensive charts showed the population, the number of older boys, the number of schools, college students, and college graduates, the number of farms, etc., etc., which are to be found in thirty-one towns of the county. His survey was directed principally to the study of the boy problem. His observations were startling, giving those present a definite, practical knowledge of the need of rural community work with boys. Of especial significance was the amazing fact that in the towns where boys' work is being carried on fifty-seven per cent. of the boys are engaged in Bible Study while in unorganized towns only twenty-six per cent. were thus engaged. This is only one instance of alarming conditions which were disclosed existing in the county communities which the county work proposes to alleviate.

NAVY YARD NEWS

For Leadingmen and Quartermen

The examination for eligible list of leadingmen and quartermen will be held at the yard on Wednesday, Jan. 15. The following notice has been issued in connection with the examination:

The written examination will begin at 8:30 a. m. and the oral at 2:00 p. m.

All employees wishing to take this examination will report in the office of the Board of Labor Employment to fill out regular application blanks and to obtain any further information desired.

Applications must be filed in the office of the Board of Labor Employment by 4:00 p. m. Saturday, the 11th instant.

Attention is called to the fact that men who took the examination last year must take the examination again this year in order to remain on the eligible list.

cred, having washed ashore near the yard.

Fire at Boston Yard.

Two pulps of water extinguished a fire in straw and burlap protecting a recently constructed concrete roof extending over the front of the core oven in the stone foundry building, No. 42, at the Charlestown navy yard, Saturday afternoon. The fire was started by a spark from the smelter, and an audibly excited workman gave an alarm from box 442 located in the yard.

Must Be Approved.

The commander of the Mare Island yard, Admiral Cushman, has called the attention of the yard employees to the fact that they cannot take part in local elections without the approval of the department.

He Had Many Names.

The court martial is in session at Mare Island with several cases to be heard. The most interesting is that of Robert Dalton, a coal passer, who has succeeded in annexing a string of aliases of unusual length in making a record for fraudulent enlistment. They are Robert Dalton, alias George Adams, alias Leslie D. Salisbury, alias Jefferson Davis, alias George Stevens, alias John Stanford.

I WONDER

What the survey work of the railroad engineers meant here last week?

How the contest for the piece of leather of weights and measures is coming out?

If the tug of war team from the Portsmouth Brewing Company will have to go down to Fort Constitution and drag the soldiers up to the city for that contest?

Why Ezra Towle was not seen at the last inauguration at city hall?

Just who Ezra stands politically at the present time?

When that political sensation here is to be opened up?

Why Captain Haddock and his bunch of star bowlers from the veteran firemen don't fit with the regulars?

Why the captain don't start a little league of his own?

If a gerrymander bill for Portsmouth is not likely to come along soon in Concord?

What the board of police commissioners will do today at the first meeting with Sperry in the line up?

If anybody has ever got a line on that aeroplane sky plane which flew into the cold waters of the South Pond one night recently?

If the directors of the Sunset League will hold any winter meetings?

Where the Burdock Club are camping for the winter?

If anybody got a flashlight picture of the gang that lined up with the Italian band on New Year's eve?

Why that Penhallow street business man don't grab some of that big money that has been offered for his famous paper Lou Dillon?

Where the other fast steeds will fit on the speedway when he starts Lou out for a brush?
